A Message From The Artistic Director

Tonight is a celebration. A celebration of all those we love and have loved in our lives.

“Tuesdays With Morrie”, the play, is based on the book by Mitch Albom. The book became a bestseller and changed millions of lives. In factit changed mine.

It's the true story about Mitch, a career driven journalist, and his college professor Morrie Schwartz. After losing touch for 16 years, Mitch happens to catch Morrie's appearance on a national news program and learns Morrie is battling Lou Gerhigs Disease. They were reconnected and thus began the final class Morrie taught. The subject... The Meaning of Life.

Filled with humor and tears, this is truly a celebration of life and the human spirit.

As Morrie put it... “when you learn how to die, you learn how to live”.

I invite you keep an open heart tonight as we laugh and cry together.

Enjoy,

Naomi Richardson

Profiles

Clark Douglas (Mitch) is appearing in his second show with Main Street Players. His first role was the bumbling "Meter Reader" in "Who's there?" Clark is the Station Manager at WHIE Radio and lives in Griffin with his wife Rebekah and their four cats. He is greatly appreciative of the opportunity to participate in such a lovely show and looks forward to working with MSP on many more occasions in the future.

Gary Morgan (Morrie) Gary is a 30+ year theatre and film veteran and is known to audiences around the Southern Crescent for his work at some of the south side's most prominent theatres. Some of his roles include Dracula in "Dracula," John Barrymore in "I Hate Hamlet," and John Baker in "Whose Wives Are They Anyway?" at South Side Theatre Guild. His other roles include John Utterson in "Jekyll and Hyde," Jim in "Pumpboys and Dinettes," George Banks in "Father of the Bride," and Captain John Smith in "Titanic" at the Henry Players. Gary also played the Confederate Captain in "The Civil War," Bill Sykes in "Oliver," and Reverend Shaw Moore in "Footloose" for Twilight Theatre. Main Street audiences will remember Gary for his roles as Reverend Mervin Oglethorp in "Sanders Family Reunion" and Peter Fleming in "Moonlight and Magnolias." Gary is a two time Metro Atlanta Theatre Award Best Actor winner. He was recognized this past September for his portrayal of Morrie Schwartz in "Tuesday's with Morrie," Gary would like to thank Norma Richardson, Marian Sorensen, and the Main Street family for welcoming me back. Thanks to my wife Cathy and my sons Matt and Connor for their unconditional love and support. Last, but not least, I thank God for his blessings.

Norma Richardson (Director) is a native of Griffin, Georgia. Her theatre experience includes; acting, directing, stage management and writing. She has appeared on many Atlanta stages. With Main Street her roles include; "Love Letters", "Same Time Next Year", "Grace & Glorie", "The Guys", "Our Town", "Steel Magnolias" and "Driving Miss Daisy". Her career in television began with Turner Broadcasting/CNN. For the past 20 plus years she was an Executive Vice President with Primerica and General Manager for PFN-TV, the largest in-house corporate production facility of its nature. Now she is dedicating her time to Main Street Players on a full time basis.

In September 2001, her dream of establishing a non-profit theatre company in her hometown became a reality with the opening of Main Street Players. As the founding Artistic Director of Griffin's Main Street Players she is most appreciative for all the support from the community and our patrons for the past ten years.

Marian Sorensen (Production Manager) She is indebted to Norma Richardson for providing this opportunity and thankful that her husband, Neil, is so supportive. Other directing credits at MSP include: "Driving Miss Daisy", "Grace and Glorie", and "The Best Christmas Pageant Ever".

BJ Hughes (Scenic Designer) has produced and designed over 100 adult productions for Alliance Theatre Education, directing over 80, where he has been a teaching artist for 23 years. He is currently resident designer for Chattahoochee High School and is delighted that working with Main Street Players has helped him reconnect with his dear friend Marian Sorenson. As an actor BJ toured America for three years in classical productions of Shakespeare and Moliere before settling in Atlanta where he has performed at Theatrical Outfit, Horizon Theatre, theatre in the Square, and at the Alliance Theatre. He performed as an Equity guest artist for Classic Theatre Works at Kennesaw State University in the role of the Stage manager in "Our Town." His on-camera appearances include "In the Heat of the Night." the PBS mini-series "Avenue of Our Years," "A Son's Promise" with Rick Schroeder, "Driving Miss Daisy," and numerous commercials.
